

LET ME TOUCH YOUR HEART

L. Manne/L. Kotzer

The colours in your world have faded
Your 20-20 vision is now jaded
Life was crystal clear
But it changed this year
Let me play a part
Let me touch your heart

You say today's just another day
And your pain never seems to go away
It hurts so much
You miss that touch
It's tough to be apart
Let me touch your heart

Close your eyes
Pretend you hear the music
Of a soft guitar
You're sitting on the beach,
Beneath the stars
Your heart is so at ease
Your face can almost feel the ocean breeze

If your soul is crying
Like a violin
And your life is like the sadness
Of a mandolin
I can play a part
Let me touch your heart

Close your eyes, pretend you see a field
Open spaces, running barefoot through the grass
Winds caress your face
A warm embrace
I can play a part
Let me touch your heart

A breath of summer air
You can see the beauty everywhere
I can play a part
Let touch your heart
